Our Company has been casting automated or modern and Hydraulically consolidated Roof/Terrace Tiles, Classing Tiles with Upgraded automation. We always take superiority as the criteria of our company. Our foundry is located at Vill. Kakkar Majra, Distt. Ambala, Haryana. The purpose of the company is to enhance the unit with most recent automation and currently the company is casting modern tiles using German automation. With the Automation, Pugmill eliminates the air from the clay, making it additionally extensible thus enhancing the superiority of modern tiles.

The burning of stiff clay at sharp degree result natural brick red colour. We are also specializing in Hydraulic Automation which is recently adopted in Italy and other countries. These Hydraulically Consolidated tiles have been employed broadly in interior & exterior elevations by ingenious architects & designers who choose these tiles for their dynamic colour like Terracotta, Antique, Brown and many more These tiles have very sharp high compressive strength, good luster and less water absorption. Modern & Hydraulically consolidated Tiles are fired at 1000°C near vitrification temperature because of which the sulphur present in the air cannot contaminate the building. Our trust is the superiority of products and customer fulfillment is our motto.
